Meet NMDR's new Fundraising Event Coordinator

Jenny Witt has been rescuing and rehabilitating animals on her own and with various organizations for over 15 years. She has worked with orphaned and injured squirrels, birds, pigs and turtles, just to name a few! However, Jenny is especially passionate about working with anxious and shy dogs.

While completing her Bachelor's Degree, Jenny was awarded an internship at Walt Disney World. She went on to work in pharmaceutical marketing in her hometown of St. Louis, before moving back to Orlando to work in event management. This experience led her to become the owner of a transportation company, servicing Orlando's booming convention business.

After seven years as a successful business owner, Jenny decided to follow her heart and sell the business in exchange for a better quality of life. She went through yoga teacher training, continued volunteering with dogs, focused on cat Trap-Neuter-Release in her community, and traveled.

Just two months ago Jenny and her husband Brian, along with their three dogs and three cats, relocated from Orlando to Colorado Springs. While Jenny had no idea what the future would hold for her in Colorado, she knew that she had to work in some capacity with animals. She was thrilled to be hired as National Mill Dog Rescue's Event Coordinator and looks forward to making a difference in the lives of puppy mill dogs.
